Affairs Of The Heart

The decision to employ an investigator for relationship problems is always a difficult one. However, not knowing things that could profoundly affect your life can be even more traumatic. At Global we can offer you peace of mind by either confirming or denying suspicions and give you an accurate picture of the facts to help you move on.

We propose various ways to investigate the situation for you and will look at your personal circumstances and advise accordingly. Some suggestions will use background checks, covert surveillance and tried and trusted in-house techniques.

Some examples of typical cases from the last 12 months:

The case files below represent a very small area of business we have undertaken and do not directly identify anyone connected to the investigations. Permission to reproduce the files has been exclusively granted.

Taking the next steps:

If your partner is being unfaithful then you certainly have the right to know. Maybe you are planning to commit further in your relationship? Rest assured that we will endeavour to provide the answers you may be looking for. In most cases it is changes in attitude and behaviour that cause suspicion. We can help you to confirm whether these suspicions are founded or not. Take a look at our Infidelity section in the Warning Signs page of our site for more examples of the signs to look out for.

Cost Concerns:

This is a predominantly asked question by our clients and we obviously have set rates that apply. We ensure that money spent must be money well spent and the avenues we undertake must justify the expenditure. We never undertake work for our clients that has not been previously authorised or budgeted for.

It is paramount to us that your relationship and the confidential issues surrounding it are very precious to you and we appreciate that at all costs.

Our in-house rates start from £20 per hour per person and our surveillance rates start from £40 per Agent per hour.

If you feel you are ready to get in touch please either call us on: 0208 287 7770 to speak to a member of our friendly and considerate customer service team or email us via our contact page.

If you prefer you can state in the message box a time you would like us to call you back and always be assured we will act with the utmost discretion.
